Kandava

Old Town of Kandava

Kandava is one of the most beautiful provincial towns of Kurzeme where the ancient architecture has been saved. In several places in the Old Town the old cobblestone streets are preserved and special lanterns placed.

The hilly topography and wonderful nature views make particularly romantic mood. The first time Kandava was mentioned in recorded history in 1230. Historians have discovered that the vicinity of Kandava had been inhabited since Early Roman Iron Age (2.-4.c.)

The Crusade went through Kandava. In order to secure movements the building of fortified stone wall castle was begun. In century 13th The Livonia Order built Vogt castle in Kandava. Next to the castle developed town of German craftsmen and traders with local market, workshops and church. Workshops and groceries were located around the Old Market Square. At that time there the main roads, later streets crossed and even today these streets are named Sabiles and Talsu. In 1625 Kandava was granted the rights of small village. After that Kandava bloomed becoming the market center of nearest surrounding area.

The pieces of timber were floated down the river Abava till the port of Ventspils, several small production units developed. The river Abava in times of Duke Jēkabs was used for sailing. Waters lapped present-day castle mound. In the beginning of 18th c. plague took the majority of inhabitants' lives and Kandava lost the status of center. Juridically the rights of town to Kandava was granted only in 1917.

The planning of the town is divided into two parts – on the left bank of river Abava there is the Old Town with a web of streets directed towards center, on the right bank – NewKandava.

In 20th c. Kandava was outlined against other provincial towns of Kurzeme with the major number of stone buildings. That special feeling of Old Town is formed thanks to closed inner courtyards and two-storied household buildings with galleries. At the end of 19th c. there were 9 hotels and inns in Kandava. Several buildings of hotels and inns with original thoroughfare built in 18th-19th c. are preserved. On street Sabiles still you can find a hotel.

Many buildings in Kandava are built in Neo-Gothic style, including society building, nowadays the House of Culture. Impressive landscape is the North part of street Lielā, called Vējspārns (the Windwing or the Wing of Wind). There many buildings on hillside are built in several levels. The old part of Talsu street still is cobblestone street with stone wall enclosure. The steepest slope of Lielā street – the Windwing – with its old cobblestone is very popular place for painters.

In Kandava there are 3854 inhabitants. Area 9,5 km². Own coat of arms – since 1925.

Regional community of Kandava was made merging a town and 6 local communities during the time from 1996.-2009. Number of inhabitants – 8549. Area 648,55 km². The Regional community has its own coat of arms since 2013. Regional community of Kandava was the first regional community in Latvia.

3 The Castle Mound of the Knights or Livonia Order castle ruins

Lielā street 10, Kandava

Here stood one of the fortified Order's castles on the way to Prussia when the Crusade war roads went from Riga through Kurzeme. Castle was located on the cape in order to take general view of the valley of river Abava. The castle was built in times of master Eberhards fon Zeine and master Burhards Hornhūzens from 1253.-1259. The castle as residence of district judge was mentioned in 1312. The castle was enlarged in 1334. Vogts were subordinated to commander of Kuldīga (the knight of Order who governed the district) and together with Kandava superintended regional community of Sabile and Talsi where vogts had less rights. Vogts monitored collection of duties, administered justice and did other administration tasks. The regional community of Kandava had specific duty – honey, because the vicinity was rich in bee-keepers. The castle had been inhabited till 1750. Years later it was acknowledged as uninhabitable and as time passed it became ruins. There are no evidence about how the castle looked in reality. The castle mound was surrounded by protection stone wall. On the North side place is more sloping and it is believed that there was the entrance of the castle. Ruins of stone walls and foundation let us judge that it was 34,2 X 31,5 m big rectangled building with 1,8 m thick stone walls and 2 m wide foundation. It is supposed there was a chapel too as remains of stairs had been found.

4 The Powder Tower

Pils Street 4, Kandava

Next to the castle mound stands well preserved Powder Tower which is national monument of architecture. It is foursquare building with two floors and almost 2 m thick stone walls. It has been built in the middle of 17th c. as gunpowder factory and storehouse belonging to duke Jēkabs. Around 1790 in the building the prison was constructed for the court of the lord of the manor. According to stories there were secret passages and cellars under the tower where in the beginning of last century men found bottles of wine that were more than hundred years old.

10 Kuršu (the Couronian) Castle Mound

Pūzurgavas street 2, Kandava

During times castle mound has acquired different names. Thanks to the shape it is called God's bed and Devil's bed. In the place where now is the Couronian castle mound once was Couronian castle, one of the centers of Vanema. The first time castle was mentioned in 1230 agreement where couronians promised to become Christians what make us believe that the castle was inhabited till 13th c. The hight of the hill is 8-10 m, all hill-sides are artificially steeped and the surface is 40X26m wide. Some evidence that had been found about this history time is accessible in the Kandava Regional Museum. Small parking place is next to the castle mound. You can climb up the steps and take a look on valley of river Abava and part of the town which is called NewKandava by locals.

Latvian national legend says that the castle had had cellars. When enemy came the castle was slid down into cellars and then lifted out again. However when the furious enemy came, castle went down and never rose.

11 The Oldest Boulder Bridge over the River Abava

Lielā street/Jelgavas street

In Kandava over the river Abava you can get crossing the oldest boulder bridge in Latvia. It may be called even the oldest brigde that is made of boulders in North Europe. The lenght is 66 m, it has 4 arches. Till the year 1873 small ferry was used to cross the river but pedestrians had plank-way. After the horse of baron Firks who was the owner of Zemites manor broke its leg when the plank went to pieces, locals gave to the baron a new horse as a gift. In gratitude he proposed and supported the construction of a bridge. The bridge was built on land. All people who came to the market took boulders with them. When the bridge was ready a new bed was dug and the old one filled up.

12 Sculpture "Whirlpool"

Jelgavas street 1 f, Kandava

Erected in 2012. Located next to the bridge of Kandava and river Abava. Sculpture portrays a fish emerging out of the water and is made in granite. Wooden benches for resting depict branches pulled into a whirlpool.

Fish for Latvians mean wealth, welfare, luck. Be cautious, wishes made near the fish may come true! The author is sculptor Ojars Feldbergs.

Once upon a time land was covered with ice. One day it started to melt and turned into an enormous lake. It became bigger and bigger, went over the banks and started to flow to the sea. Valley and river came into existence. People settled down on river's banks, animals strolled around but in the river were fish.

One of them was very big. It haven't managed to reach the sea. In times of spring floods people threw money into depth and called "Abava, Abava, Abava!" Then fish appeared and helped to cross the river letting people sit on its back. One day people built a bridge and dug a new river-bed but the old one where the fish lived was filled up. Fish became a stone and stayed into depth forever. Noone has seen it since then. However people kept calling Abava and do so up to now. Right before changing to a stone fish said that when it would be found, raised and honoured, fish in return will materialize three wishes if said in silance and only one at time.

38 Buses (Matkule) Couronian Castle Mound

Local community of Matkule

Five-level castle mound is regarded as one of the political and economical centers of Vanema - the old Couronian land (11th – 13th c.). Awarded with two European cultural heritage flags due to the beauty of nature. Castle Mound is included in the list of 50 the most popular National nature heritage monuments. In the house of Buses in 1911 the first tourist halt in Latvia was set up. In the territory lay 3 "holstones". Legend goes about swain and fair maiden. Swain next to the castle mound was herding his cows. Every day fair maiden appeared and gave him tasty food by saying that when he reaches 15 the sunken castle will rise again and he will become a king. The only rule that he can't say it to anyone. At home his people started to ask him why doesn't he eat anything? After flogging the boy told about the pretty visitor. Next day fair maiden cried bitterly, now in place of 100 years she must stay in underworld thousand years.
